

ACC3707/ACC4701 Integrated Perspectives in Accounting and Business
(Semester 1, AY2026_2027)

Course Outline

Course Instructors

Name	Role	E-Mails	Office
A/P Ho Tuck Chuen (HTC)	Lecturer (Course Co-Ordinator)	bizhtc@nus.edu.sg	BIZ2 3-21
A/P Chng Chee Kiong (CCK)	Lecturer	bizcck@nus.edu.sg	BIZ1 7-16

Pre-requisites/Co-requisites

Completed a set of specified business and accountancy courses and completed or concurrently reading a set of higher-level accountancy courses. Please refer to NUSMods for details.

Units: 4

Workload (hours per week):

Seminar (Lecture/Case presentations): 3

Preparatory work: 7

Classes will consist of one three-hour session per week. Many of the classes will be a combination of lectures and group project presentations by students.

Other faculty may also attend some student presentations and provide feedback.

Learning Outcomes

After completing this course, you will be able to:

1. Apply knowledge gained in various business core and compulsory accounting courses to issues in real-life entities.
2. Integrate knowledge from various business core and compulsory accounting courses in analyzing real-life entities.
3. Acquire an overview of selected advanced topics and contemporary issues in accounting and business, with an especial focus on strategy, corporate governance, risk management, management control systems and business mergers & acquisitions.
4. Make formal presentations of wide-ranging analyses at a level that is potentially useful to the key stakeholders of an entity including but not limited to its board of directors, management and investors.

Teaching and Learning Activities

1. Group Project Presentations (GPPs): Most weeks would be spent on student presentations relating to cases based on real-life Singapore or overseas business entities.
2. Seminars: Some weeks would be partly spent on seminar discussions covering some advanced topics and current issues.

Textbook

There is no compulsory textbook for this course. Students would refer widely to their textbooks for other courses and readings assigned by the instructors.

Assessment

Component	Weight
Attendance and class participation	10%
Group Project Presentations (continuous assessment)	40%
Final examination scheduled for 27 Nov 2026, 2:30pm, 2.5 hours)	50%

Attendance and class participation

Participation marks are awarded for the students' participation during class activities including debates, quizzes, practice presentations, case discussions etc. These marks are recorded from Week 3 onwards.

Seminar attendance is compulsory because you cannot participate if you are absent from class. If you miss a class for compelling reasons such as illness or other commitments approved by the school, please submit a medical certificate (MC) or obtain an official leave of absence (LOA) by applying online through the student portal. You should forward the LOA email to A/P Ho Tuck Chuen (bizhtc@nus.edu.sg) and A/P Chng Chee Kiong (bizcck@nus.edu.sg).